PROTECTION EXERCISES

I. Call Off

The trainer will position a suspect behind a position of cover. The handler will drive up to predetermined position and park. The dog will be loose inside the vehicle with a window down.

The handler will exit the vehicle and begin walking away from the vehicle. When the handler is approximately 30 yards away from the vehicle, the suspect will charge at the handler. At this time, the dog should leave the vehicle and come to the handler's aid. When the dog is approximately 1-5 yards away from the handler, the suspect will stop the attack. The suspect will then flee in the opposite direction. The handler will then call of the dog and immediately get the dog back under physical control.

IV. Assault by Two Suspects

The trainer will hide two suspects in an area not visible to the Dog Team. the team will walk to a predetermined location. At this location, one of the suspects will approach the handler and ask to talk with him/her. The handler will leave the dog on a down and walk to the suspect approximately 7 yards away. During their conversation, the suspect will attack the handler. The dog should immediately come to the handler's aid and bite the suspect. As Suspect 1 is fighting with the dog, Suspect 2 will then leave his hiding place and will attack the handler. The handler will then call the dog off Suspect 1 and redirect the dog to Suspect 2. After a short fight with Suspect 2, the handler will call the dog off and regain control of the dog.

V. Residence Protection

This is a two part exercise:

In Part 1, the dog will be running free in the yard of his residence. A suspect will attempt to enter the property. The dog must repel the suspect by barking or physical force if necessary. the handler who has been out of view inside the residence will exit the residence and regain control of the dog.

In Part 2, the dog will be free within his residence. The handler will also be in the residence, but not in the room where the suspect will attempt to make entry. The suspect will attempt to make entry into the residence without permission. The dog should approach the suspect and begin to bark. The suspect will then challenge the dog, at which time the dog should bite the suspect. The handler will then enter the room and call of the dog, and regain control.
